Trout Rock Wilderness Lodge has been operating for over 20 years on the North Arm of Great Slave Lake, only a 12 minute float plane ride from Yellowknife. The lodge is located on a rocky island in a sheltered section of this massive, 300 mile long lake.

The facility includes a new main lodge for dining and meetings. It is equipped with telephone, internet, flush toilets, licensed lounge, fireplace and a fantastic view of Great Slave Lake. Guest cabins sleep up to four people and are equipped with furnace, power and running water. There is also a wood stove-operated hot tub on the premises.

The lodge offers summer and winter activities. In summer, pike fishing is the big draw, and guests always catch fish, often over 48 inches. In winter aurora viewing is our specialty. In both seasons, we offer add on activities from hiking and bird watching in summer, to ice fishing and snowmobiling in winter.

Trout Rock Lodge has been acclaimed as one of the best pike fishing locations in the world. And you don't have to go far to catch a big one. Every year, many pike over 48 inches are caught right from the dock in front of the lodge.

A visit to the lodge also offers an opportunity to view the Precambrian Shield up close. The lodge is surrounded by colourful glaciated granite, dotted with a range of popular northern trees and wildflowers.
